Early 20th Century Sarouk Mohajeran Carpet

Description

The subtly variegated camel field displays a beautifully drawn array of cypresses, vases, flowering shrubs and decorative floriate branches. The inscription reads "Castelli-Kazan" two important carpet trading firms in the early 20th century. The midnight blue main border connects fantastic palmettes with double red feathers. The carpet, from the early decades of the 20th century, is very well woven with excellent pile wool, and is in fine condition.
