19th Century N.E. Persian Kurdish Quchan Carpet

Description

The Kurdish tribes of northeastern Persia weave a unique style of carpets, colorful and geometric, with particularly warm, mellow reds and yellows. Here four medallions in bright reds, ivory and aubergine stand out against a scatter of small abstract devices and a few more realistic vegetable forms The border is borrowed from the neighboring Turkmen tribes. This c. 1880 nomadic carpet is especially large for the type.

Stock ID:	#21951
General Rug Type:	Persian Informal
Specific Rug Type:	Quchan - Kordi
Circa:	1880
Color:	Red Rust
Origin:	Persia
Material:	Wool
Weave:	Pile - Knotted
Shape:	Rectangle
Width:	5' 8" (172.72 cm)
Length:	12' 2" (370.84 cm)